

Since 911 the stress level of every american citizen has increased exponentially. We work hard and, as a result of the attack on American soil, many of us has comitted to a deeper appreciation of our loved ones. After completing the responsabilites my job demands, I for one do not want my precious time for myself and family to be interrupted by an unsolicited phone call. As a harried invidual who registered for the campaign to stop such this intrusion I implore you to help us retain our victory.
